Item 4 - Advisory Business

Family Legacy, Inc. has been serving clients since May of 1995. The advisory firm is owned by Christopher A. Brown. William W. Brown, the founder of the business continues to take an active role in the business. Together, they form a father and son team that has backgrounds in tax and accounting. Both are Certified Public Accountants and Personal Financial Specialists. Christopher A. Brown is authorized by the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards (CFP Board) to use the CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ and CFP® certification marks in accordance with CFP Board certification and renewal requirements.

Family Legacy, Inc. provides portfolio management and financial planning services. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on a client's particular circumstances are established, Family Legacy, Inc. develops a client's personal investment policy and creates and manages a portfolio based on that policy. Our firm enters into a portfolio management agreement with all clients making investment decisions for the account according to the investment objectives and financial circumstances as shown in the client's investment policy statement.

Family Legacy, Inc. provides this service to individuals, pension and profit-sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations and corporations. Family Legacy, Inc. primarily manages advisory accounts on a discretionary basis. Factors considered in making investment decisions include the account size, risk tolerance and the client's investment experience and any other pertinent information discussed with a client during consultation or in the process of developing the client's investment policy.

Family Legacy, Inc. assists each client in determining the amount of risk versus return in various investment vehicles and helps the client in allocating his or her assets between the various asset classes.

Family Legacy, Inc. will maintain periodic and appropriate communication with the client. Family Legacy, Inc. monitors the performance of the account and continually assesses the client's risk tolerance and changes the asset allocation as necessary.

Family Legacy, Inc. manages money on a discretionary basis in primarily two ways.

Since the company's inception, the company has utilized individually managed accounts, which for larger accounts (typically a minimum account size of $250,000), have been primarily made up of individually traded securities.

For individually managed accounts, our philosophy is conservative and emphasizes high-quality, high-yielding stocks and other large-cap stocks for the majority of portfolio assets. We also use mid-cap and other stocks to a lesser degree. Government bonds, preferred stocks, convertible securities, real estate investment trusts, no-load mutual funds, exchange traded funds and other investment vehicles are utilized to achieve greater diversification and to include international investing and other fixed instruments. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds will be selected on the basis of any or all of the following criteria: The fund's performance history, the industry sector in which the fund invests, the track record of the fund's manager, the fund's investment objectives, the fund's management style and philosophy and the fund's management fee structure. Portfolio weighting between funds and market sectors will be determined by each client's individual needs and circumstances. Clients will have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments which will be made on the clients' behalf. Clients will retain individual ownership of all securities.

Family Legacy, Inc. also offers asset allocation portfolios consisting of no-load mutual funds, exchange traded funds and other pooled investment vehicles within Family Legacy, Inc.'s discretion. The use of no-load mutual funds, ETFs and other pooled investment vehicles allows Family Legacy, Inc. to diversify accounts through the use of these investments rather than the selection of individual stocks, bonds and other securities described above. Accounts that are smaller than those accepted by Family Legacy, Inc. as separately managed accounts described above may be accepted as asset allocation portfolios. In all cases, minimum account size is negotiable.

Asset allocation portfolios using mutual funds, ETFs and other pooled investment vehicles may be used for any size account depending on the client's preferences and circumstances.

Family Legacy, Inc.'s asset allocation portfolios are constructed as model portfolios of mutual funds, ETFs and other pooled investment vehicles. Client assets are managed according to a model that is suitable to the client's individual investment objectives, risk tolerance and financial circumstances. Clients may place reasonable restrictions on assets selected by Family Legacy, Inc. for implementation of the client's portfolio.

Family Legacy, Inc. also provides advisory services to participant-directed employee retirement benefit plans on a non-discretionary basis. Adviser will analyze the plan's current investment platform, and assist the plan in creating an investment policy statement defining the types of investments to be offered and the restrictions that may be imposed.

Family Legacy, Inc. will recommend investment options to achieve the plan's objectives, provide participant education meetings, and monitor the performance of the plan's investment vehicles.

Family Legacy, Inc. will recommend changes in the plan's investment vehicles as may be appropriate from time to time and will review the plan's investment vehicles and investment policy as necessary.

Family Legacy, Inc. will generally engage new clients in a discovery process to define goals and explore a client's values as they relate to their personal financial situation. We will also meet with clients on a periodic basis to review and update their individual financial plan as appropriate.

Family Legacy, Inc. may offer investment advice and financial planning services on a consultation basis. Fees are charged on a fixed-fee basis, and a range of the fees to be charged for these services are agreed upon before the work commences. In the client engagement letter, an actual schedule of fees and dates to be paid are included. The client may terminate these services at any time and get a full refund of any unearned portion of the fees upon written request.

Written Acknowledgement of Fiduciary Status

When we provide investment advice to you regarding your retirement plan account or individual retirement account, we are fiduciaries within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. The way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests, so we operate under a special rule that requires us to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. Under this special rule's provisions, we must:

- Meet a professional standard of care when making investment recommendations (give prudent advice);
- Never put our financial interests ahead of yours when making recommendations (give loyal advice);
- Avoid misleading statements about conflicts of interest, fees, and investments;
- Follow policies and procedures designed to ensure that we give advice that is in your best interest;
- Charge no more than is reasonable for our services; and
- Give you basic information about conflicts of interest.

As of December 31, 2021, Family Legacy managed for clients and related parties $ $273,081,392 million dollars under discretionary management. The Firm advised on another $18,258,915 million dollars of non-discretionary assets.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Family Legacy, Inc. uses the following fee schedules for assets under management and ongoing financial planning in its individually managed accounts.

Value of Account Annual Fee

0 - $3 Million	1.5%
Next $5 Million	1.25%
Greater than $8 Million	1.0%

Family Legacy, Inc. charges a management fee on asset allocation portfolios that is less than the fee charged for separately managed accounts on account values above $250,000. While fees on these portfolios paid to Family Legacy, Inc. may be lower, aggregate fees paid by the client may be higher than individually managed portfolios because of expense ratios charged by the pooled investment vehicles paid by the end client. Asset allocation portfolios are not specifically tax-managed, which Family Legacy, Inc. provides for taxable separately managed accounts.

Family Legacy, Inc. uses the following fee schedules for assets under management and ongoing financial planning in its asset allocation portfolios.

Value of Account Annual Fee

$0 - $500,000	1.50%
Next $500,000	1.25%
Next $2,000,000	1.00%
Amounts greater than $3,000,000	.75%

Fees are generally payable quarterly in advance. The initial billing period starts upon the receipt of any funds or securities in the account. The first payment will be prorated to cover the period from the date the account is funded through the end of the current full calendar quarter. Clients will be invoiced in advance at the beginning of each calendar quarter based upon the value of the account at the end of the previous quarter. In limited situations, fees are negotiable. If a portfolio management agreement is terminated within five days of execution, fees are completely refunded. If a portfolio management agreement is otherwise terminated, refunds are made on a pro-rata basis upon written request.

Family Legacy, Inc. uses the following fee schedules for non-discretionary advisory services performed for employee directed retirement plans.

Value of Account Annual Fee

0-$5,000,000	.5%
Next $5,000,000	.35%
Amounts greater than $10,000,000	.25%

Non-discretionary fees for employee directed retirement plans are billed quarterly in arrears. In limited situations, fees are negotiable.

All fees paid to Family Legacy, Inc. for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge. A client could invest in a mutual fund directly, without the services of Family Legacy, Inc. In that case, the client would not receive the services provided by Family Legacy, Inc., which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which mutual fund or funds are most appropriate to each client's financial condition or objectives. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds and the fees charged by Family Legacy, Inc. to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to thereby evaluate the advisor services being provided. Additionally, the custodian used will typically charge a nominal fee on a per-trade basis.

Family Legacy, Inc.'s fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, and other third parties such as custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Such charges, fees, and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to Family Legacy, Inc.'s fee, and Family Legacy, Inc. shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees and costs.

Fees and account size are negotiable. For smaller accounts Family Legacy will generally ask that the client enter a periodic investment plan where the client adds an automatic deposit to the account on a regular basis.

We charge a fixed fee for initial consultation which generally includes financial planning services based on an agreed upon amount decided with the client before beginning the engagement. In most initial cases, the client will agree to an engagement letter. In the client engagement letter, an actual schedule of fees and dates to be paid are included. For on-going consultation or special projects the client may request to be billed as the work progresses. The client may terminate these services at any time and receive a full refund of any unearned portion of the fees upon written request.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Family Legacy, Inc. does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client).

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Family Legacy, Inc. provides portfolio management services to individuals, high net worth individuals, corporate, pension and profit-sharing plans, charitable organizations, trusts, estates and corporations.

The minimum size for new individually managed accounts is $250,000. However, Family Legacy, Inc., under certain circumstances, will negotiate this minimum account size. This minimum account size will apply to new accounts and will not change the status for existing accounts. There is no minimum account size for an asset allocation portfolio.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

For individually managed accounts Family Legacy utilizes common stocks, ADR's, REIT's, bonds, mutual funds, ETF's, publicly traded limited partnerships, and other publicly traded instruments to build portfolios based on each client's individual risk tolerance.

We generally hold securities over a long period of time and seek capital appreciation in conjunction with income to create long-term sustainable growth. Our style is that of long-term investors seeking stability with reasonable returns. We do not hold ourselves out as traders. We are an investment firm seeking wise investments over a long period of time.

For asset management portfolios, we search for no load funds with no transaction fees and reasonable expense ratios that are generally rated three stars and greater in Morningstar. We also seek to utilize high quality exchange traded funds (ETFs). We work diligently to design portfolios that will fit within a clients stated risk tolerance.

For individually directed retirement plans, we recommend high quality mutual funds and exchange traded funds that will meet the plan's objectives as outlined in their investment policy statement.

In all of our portfolios, we seek to minimize risk. Philosophically, we are willing to let go of some returns on the upside in the attempt to mitigate downside risk. Our portfolios tend to be more conservative rather than aggressive.

We use a variety of research sources such as mutual fund prospectuses, Morningstar, Y-Charts, Fi360 and others to search, evaluate, and review investments. While we make every effort to design portfolios that will meet our client's goals, investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Prior rates of return are not guaranteed in future periods.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of Family Legacy, Inc. or the integrity of its management. Family Legacy, Inc. has no information applicable to this Item.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Statement of General Policy

This Code of Ethics (“Code”) has been adopted by Family Legacy, Inc. and is designed to comply with Rule 204A-1 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (“Advisers Act”). This Code establishes rules for all employees of Family Legacy, Inc. and is designed to, among other things, govern personal securities trading activities in the accounts of employees. The Code is based upon the principal that Family Legacy, Inc. and its employees owe a fiduciary duty to Family Legacy, Inc.’s clients to conduct their affairs, including their personal securities transactions, in such a manner as to avoid (i) serving their own personal interests ahead of clients, (ii) taking inappropriate advantage of their position with the firm and (iii) any actual or potential conflicts of interest or any abuse of their position of trust and responsibility.

The Code is designed to ensure that the high ethical standards long maintained by Family Legacy, Inc. continue to be applied. The purpose of the Code is to preclude activities which may lead to or give the appearance of conflicts of interest, insider trading and other forms of prohibited or unethical business conduct. The excellent name and reputation of our firm continues to be a direct reflection of the conduct of each employee.

Pursuant to Section 206 of the Advisers Act, both Family Legacy, Inc. and its employees are prohibited from engaging in fraudulent, deceptive or manipulative conduct. Compliance with this section involves more than acting with honesty and good faith alone. It means that Family Legacy, Inc. has an affirmative duty of utmost good faith to act solely in the best interest of its clients.

Family Legacy, Inc. and its employees are subject to the following specific fiduciary obligations when dealing with clients:

- The duty to have a reasonable, independent basis for the investment advice provided;
- The duty to obtain best execution for a client's transactions where the Firm is in a position to direct brokerage transactions for the client;
- The duty to ensure that investment advice is suitable to meeting the client's individual objectives, needs and circumstances; and
- A duty to be loyal to the clients.

In meeting its fiduciary responsibilities to its clients, Family Legacy, Inc. expects every employee to demonstrate the highest standards of ethical conduct for continued employment with Family Legacy, Inc. Strict compliance with the provisions of the Code shall be considered a basic condition of employment with Family Legacy, Inc.

Family Legacy, Inc.'s reputation for fair and honest dealing with its clients has taken considerable time to build. This standing could be seriously damaged as the result of even a single securities transaction being considered questionable in light of the fiduciary duty owed to our clients. Employees are urged to seek the advice of Patrice Sebastian, the Chief Compliance Officer, for any questions about the Code or the application of the Code to their individual circumstances. Employees should also understand that a material breach of the provisions of the Code may constitute grounds for disciplinary action, including termination of employment with Family Legacy, Inc.

The provisions of the Code are not all-inclusive. Rather, they are intended as a guide for employees of Family Legacy, Inc. in their conduct. In those situations where an employee may be uncertain as to the intent or purpose of the Code, he/she is advised to consult with Patrice Sebastian. Patrice Sebastian may grant exceptions to certain provisions contained in the Code only in those situations when it is clear beyond dispute that the interests of our clients will not be adversely affected or compromised.

All questions arising in connection with personal securities trading should be resolved in favor of the client even at the expense of the interests of employees.

A complete copy of our Code of Ethics is available to clients or prospective clients at your request.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

For discretionary individually managed accounts, Family Legacy, Inc. requests that it be provided with written authority to determine which securities and the amounts of securities are bought or sold. Any limitations on this discretionary authority shall be included in this written authority statement. Clients may change/amend these limitations as required. Such amendments shall be submitted in writing.

Clients in need of brokerage and custodial services may have Fidelity Brokerage Services, Inc. or TD Ameritrade, Inc. recommended to them. Family Legacy, Inc. receives benefits that it would not receive if it did not offer investment advice and utilize these firms as custodians.

Family Legacy, Inc. may utilize block trades where possible and when advantageous to clients. The blocking of trades permits the trading of aggregate blocks of securities composed of assets from multiple client accounts. Block trading allows Family Legacy, Inc. to execute equity trades in a more-timely, more-equitable manner. However, no transactions by directors, officers or employees of Family Legacy, Inc. will be included in a client block unless said trade meets a de minimis exemption, involving less than 1,000 shares in a one-month period, in an issuer with a market capitalization of $3 billion or greater. Block trades executed at TD Ameritrade and Fidelity Investments will be placed at different times.

Generally, orders are created in our portfolio accounting system, uploaded to Fidelity or TD Ameritrade and sent by them to the Markets. Orders placed through Fidelity's electronic trading system are sent directly to the Markets via Fidelity's computer system. Orders placed through TD Ameritrade's electronic trading system are sent directly to the Markets via TD Ameritrade's computer system. Orders sent first do not necessarily trade first nor do these orders necessarily execute at terms more or less favorable than orders sent later.

Family Legacy, Inc. utilizes the services of Fidelity Brokerage Services, Inc. and TD Ameritrade Institutional. While there is no direct linkage between the investment advice given to clients and Family Legacy, Inc.'s participation in Fidelity's programs or TD Ameritrade's programs, economic benefits are received by Family Legacy, Inc. which would not be received if Family Legacy, Inc. did not give investment advice to clients. These benefits do not depend on the amount of transactions directed by Family Legacy, Inc. to Fidelity or TD Ameritrade.

These benefits include: A dedicated trading desk that services advisors exclusively, a dedicated service group and an account services manager dedicated to Family Legacy, Inc.'s accounts, access to a real-time order matching system, ability to "block" client trades, electronic download of trades, balances and positions in portfolio management software, access, for a fee, to an electronic interface with custodial account software, duplicate and batched client statements, confirmations and year-end summaries, the ability to have advisory fees directly debited from client accounts (in accordance with the federal and state requirements), quarterly newsletters, access to various mutual funds, many funds NOT affiliated with Fidelity or TD Ameritrade, ability to have loads waived for Family Legacy, Inc.'s clients who invest in certain loaded funds, when certain conditions are met and maintained and the ability to have custody fees reduced or waived (when negotiated by the advisor and allowed under certain circumstances).

Family Legacy, Inc. also receives certain vendor discounts on software as part of doing business with Fidelity and TD Ameritrade. Family Legacy, Inc. will always act in the best interest of its clients, consistent with its fiduciary duty, including when evaluating custodians/broker-dealers. Moreover, Family Legacy, Inc. recommends custodians/ broker-dealers based on its duty to seek "best execution," which has the obligation to seek to execute securities transactions clients, consistent with its fiduciary duty, including accurate execution, prompt reconciliation, and trade error resolution, competitive commission costs, access to low transaction fee ETFs, and professionalism that ultimately benefits our clients. While Family Legacy, Inc. has a reasonable belief that Fidelity and TD Ameritrade are able to obtain best execution and competitive prices, Family Legacy, Inc. will not be independently seeking best execution price capability through other broker-dealers.

We periodically review best execution reports as provided by Fidelity and TD Ameritrade to reevaluate custodial performances.

Family Legacy, Inc. reserves the right to decline acceptance of a broker dealer other than Fidelity Investments or TD Ameritrade, if Family Legacy, Inc. believes that this would adversely affect Family Legacy, Inc.'s duty to obtain best execution.

For non-discretionary employee retirement plan services, Family Legacy does not arrange for the execution of securities transactions for employee retirement benefit plans as part of this service. Transactions are executed directly through employee plan participation and the services of the TPA selected by the plan sponsor.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Discretionary portfolio management accounts are reviewed in their entirety initially upon engagement and quarterly, semi-annually or annually thereafter. Periodic reviews with the clients to review their individual performance, monitor risk tolerance and change asset allocation, as determined by client.

Non-discretionary employee benefit retirement plan assets are reviewed on an annual basis.

For discretionary portfolio management accounts, reports are prepared and delivered quarterly. For non-discretionary retirement plan advice, periodic reports and online access are provided by the plan administrator.

As part of the safeguarding requirements for the funds and securities over which it has custody (beyond constructive custody via direct fee deduction), Family Legacy, Inc. has retained an independent public accountant to conduct an annual surprise examination of these assets.

All clients receiving portfolio management services should receive at least quarterly statements from the broker dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains client's investment assets. When selecting securities and determining amounts, Family Legacy, Inc. observes the investment policies, limitations and restrictions of the clients for which it advises.
